From the minister...

On the radio, the politician being interviewed was questioned on why their political party was taking so much attention away from pressing world needs like world conflicts and the national cost of living crisis with their internal bickering. Before we get all self-righteous about not being as bad as them, it might be helpful to turn to examine the church.

In the local community of the churches, it is all too easy for us too, to be so absorbed in our own internal issues that we neglect the great calling to be Christ's representatives in the world. The church in this part of Devon has a long history of internal and inter-church conflicts which often hinder our ability to work together for the sake of the Gospel. So what do we do about our differing views on those hot topics like gender orientation, the role of women in church, the real meaning of the Lord's Supper – the list goes on?

We can't simply say that such issues don't matter. Instead, it can be helpful to give them a weight and question whether they are big enough to swamp our common bond found in Jesus. I know that sounds a bit simplistic, and to an extent it is, but it is how we have operated in our local clergy group. We are rather different in our marital set up, in our views on how church ought to be done, on our approach to Bible interpretation. But monthly we do lay that aside and work together because of our shared love of Christ and our commitment to bringing the Gospel to our local community. And for that I give thanks to God.

David

Loving God,
We pray for the people of Ukraine, for all those suffering or afraid, that you will be close to them and protect them.

We pray for world leaders, for compassion, strength and wisdom to guide their choices. We pray for the world that in this moment of crisis, we may reach out in solidarity to our brothers and sisters in need.

May we walk in your ways so that peace and justice become a reality for the people of Ukraine and for all the world.

Amen.

Nick and Sarah will be going to the warehouse on the first Wednesday of the month please continue to bring any items you have to church. If you would like any more information or have anything to donate please talk to Nick or Sarah. Thank you for your continued support, we know it makes a difference.

Therefore encourage one another and build each other up, just as in fact you are doing" 1 Thess. 5:11

We need to encourage each other. Do you have a Bible verse, poem, passage or song or any of the following? Something you are thankful for. Something that has made you laugh. If you have found something online that would be a good resource for us, please share. If you don't feel comfortable sharing in "person" this may be the way for you to encourage others.
