

God made the wild animals according to their kinds, the livestock according to their kinds, and all the creatures that move along the ground according to their kinds. And God saw that it was good.

Sunday 31st January

10:30am Worship service with Testimonies. THAT collection and dedication

From David...

It was good in our breakout room on Sunday to share what projects or hobbies we have been up to. Knitting, book reading, cross-stitch, puzzles were there among others. I showed my model ship which is, at long last, having its spars put on (the horizontal mast bits). Trivia? Maybe. But the Lord knows that those recreational activities help us. We can have down time from stress or worries or chores. That helps us function better when we are called to the more urgent aspects of life. So we don't under rate our past times.

What do you do to unwind? I know some of you are more energetic, doing Joe Wicks workouts, going on bike rides or following your own fitness regimes. Again, all good for you and you can give thanks to the Lord for it.

What do you do if you don't have anything? Sometimes we go through times in life when we can't devote any energy to such things so it is not worth getting stressed if you don't need such things or it isn't the time but it maybe worth thinking about what you do to look after your own wellbeing. And give thanks to the Lord for the joy it brings.

This month KCBC, with your help, will be donating to THAT Foodbank, which will be happy to receive any in-date donations you wish to make. There is, however, a particular need for:

Sugar

Tinned Custard

Tinned Rice Pudding

Instant Mashed Potato

Porridge Oats

David & Claire are happy to use their home as a drop-off point once again. The delivery of KCBC's donation will be on 1st February, so could all donations get to them by Saturday 30th January.

Thank you for helping to support our local community.

“Therefore encourage one another and build each other up, just as in fact you are doing” 1 Thess. 5:11

We need to encourage each other and stay connected.

Do you have a Bible verse, poem, passage or song or any of the following?

Something you are thankful for. Something that has made you laugh.

If you have found something online that would be a good resource for us please share.

Sarah

Thank you to Sue Furness for the following

When I lived in Vietnam and attended Thủ Thiêm International Church in Ho Chi Minh City, I used to put their weekly newsletter together. I would liaise with the pastor's wife over a coffee because she mostly wrote the content. It was always a struggle to find content.

It was me who took it to the printers nearby. The men in the print shop were used to me going in, because I regularly rolled up on my motor scooter to get worksheets printed for my students. They spoke hardly any English and I spoke hardly any Vietnamese, but they were friendly, and we got by. When I think about it, I miss those days. I doubt I would recognise the city now.

Over the years I lived there, HCMC changed a lot. In many parts of the city, the speed of development was phenomenal. In Đường Trần Nãi, Phường Bình An, Quận 2, Hồ Chí Minh (Đường means street) where our crumbling pink church was located, the road was widened from four lanes to six lanes occupying much of the local shop's street frontage in the process.

This area was to become the city's most prestigious business zone. Large swathes of local housing, shops and markets were flattened to make way. The new road would eventually lead to a giant square for marching and parades. HCMC fully intends to rival, if not outshine Hanoi, Vietnam's political and administrative centre in the north.

We shared the church, so, by law every so often our service had to be taken by a Vietnamese minister, complete with English translator. Clearly this lessened the impact, and it was mostly a boring occasion (sorry Lord!). After all, it was our congregation who had a black co-pastor from Louisiana who was always deeply passionate in worship. I never saw anyone wipe their brow so many times as he heaped on praise for the Lord and drew us all into the spirit. On the first floor Korean Christians would worship, but we never seemed to mingle. A quiet but friendly team of Vietnamese minded the motorcycles during the service and gently kept a small group of begging Cambodian children at a distance. It was a busy and diverse community and I loved it.

The newsletters always looked good and became a must have on Sunday mornings, especially when there was a power outage and there was no air con. Suddenly they had a dual purpose and became a convenient method for cooling us down.

If you liked this story, I could tell you about putting the newsletter together for the international church in Prague. Same thing – content is always hard to come by. Thanks for reading, Sue Furness.

Đường Trần Nãi with 4 lanes.

Đường Trần Nãi with 6 lanes.

Almost everything is flattened to make way for new development..

HOME MISSION STAMPS

Please save all your stamps and encourage family and friends to do so

Stamps should have a 12mm or 1/2 inch border.

Videos and photos of you... To keep us connected, how about putting together a short video (no more than 3 minutes) on what you have been doing over lockdown. You could show us something that you have grown or built, somewhere you have gone or someone you met up with. Or a pet. Or your latest car if you have changed it. I suppose it could just be a photo but a short video maybe done on your phone would be fun. The idea is to give us a window into our life at a time when we are blocked off. Think what you can do and then send it over to me or the Tech Team and I will slot it in our time together on Sundays.
